RE: Case No. 2006 00052
Cellular Phone Tower at Indian Hills Estates

Dear Ms. O'Donnell:

I am the developer of Indian Hills Estates, an upscale community of 50 homesites, designed to serve the needs of people who want to have a desirable location for seasonal homes, as well as those who wish to live there year around.

The subdivision of Indian Hills Estates was initiated in 1993. Enclosed herewith is a flyer which helps illustrate the concept of this community. I own six (6) lots within close proximity to a cellular phone tower which, to my amazement, has been erected on Lot 44 in the approximate middle of the subdivision.

On my May 17, 2006, visit to Indian Hills, I was appalled to discover that such an eyesore could have been considered for this particular location. Although I have 6 lots close to the tower, the primary issue here is that this tower is incompatible and obtrusive to the community of Indian Hills Estates as a whole. It is unsightly and detrimental to the community of existing and future homeowners.

With all of the undeveloped land in the area, in addition to US Government land, surely a suitable and non-controversial location can be found for this tower. But such a location is certainly not in the middle of Indian Hills Estates.

I respectfully request that appropriate action be taken by the Kentucky Public Service Commission to cause this tower to be removed forthwith.

Sincerely,

Carlie Bowmer
